Degrees conferred on 1,184 students at IBA convocation

Interim CM praises IBA for providing comprehensive educational experience; Akbar Zaidi says 40pc of graduates are young women

Dawn Report

KARACHI: As many as 1,184 graduates were conferred degrees in several disciplines at the annual convocation for the Class of 2023 at the Institute of Business Administration (IBA), Karachi Saturday.

The batch included 776 graduates from six undergraduate programmes, 403 graduates from 10 postgraduate programmes and five graduates from three PhD programmes.

The event was held on the main campus of the IBA. Caretaker Chief Minister and IBA patron retired Justice Maqbool Baqar was the chief guests. Dr Azra Raza, Chan Soon-Shiong Professor of Medicine and Clinical Director, Edward P. Evans Foundation MDS Center, Columbia University in New York was the guest of honour.

Speaking on the occasion, the

CELEBRATION is in the air at the annual convocation of IBA on Saturday.—Dawn

CM said that the convocation symbolised the culmination of years of relentless dedication and unwavering commitment. It signified the transformative power of education, the beacon that has illuminated the path of students' future, he added.

He said for over seven decades, IBA Karachi had been at the forefront of higher education. It all began in 1955 when the institute proudly collaborated with the renowned Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania. "Fast forward to today, IBA stands as a premier multidisciplinary institution, offering a spectrum of educational programmes and the three distinguished schools — School of Business Studies (SBS), School of Economics and Social Sciences (SESS) and School of Mathematics and Computer Science (SMCS) — provide a comprehensive educational experience."

Addressing the students, the CM said: "As graduates of IBA, you are the future leaders of our nation. Your actions, decisions, and ideals will influence the course of our nation. Your patriotism, hence, should be deeply rooted in your pursuit of justice, equality, and progress."

He congratulated Class of 2023 and wished them to embark on a remarkable journey towards a brighter and prosperous Pakistan.

Dr Raza congratulated the graduates and said, "You are now entering a world where things are uncertain and unpredictable. But having said that the future is open to possibilities and as young, competent, empowered individuals, it is your duty to fight all the challenges for a fabulous future."

Speaking about the immense capabilities of a human brain, Dr Raza quoted renowned American poet Emily Dickinson and likened the human brain to a sponge ready to soak up knowledge. She urged the graduates to be consistent in the pursuit of their conquests and encouraged them to never give up on their dreams, even if it meant making sacrifices to reach their potential.

IBA's Executive Director Dr S Akbar Zaidi congratulated the graduates and said, "I applaud each one of you for reaching this significant milestone in your educational journey as your hard work has come to fruition. Graduation is a time of celebration and reflection and signifies the beginning of a new chapter in your lives. I encourage you all to excel in your selected walks of life and continue the legacy of excellence that is the hallmark of IBA."

"I am delighted to share that almost 40 per cent of our graduates are young women and this year almost half the PhD graduates are females, which is a proud moment for the IBA takes," he added.

He also highlighted IBA's commitment to diversity and inclusivity by enrolling students from all socioeconomic backgrounds with currently 30pc of the IBA students receiving some form of financial assistance.

IBA CONVOCATION 2023

'Patriotism, commitment to welfare intrinsically tied to devotion'

Baqar advises students their patriotism should be deeply rooted in their pursuit of justice, equality and progress; 1,184 graduates conferred degrees in several disciplines

By our correspondent

"We must remind ourselves that our patriotism, our love for this nation and our commitment to its welfare are intrinsically tied to our discipline and devotion," said Sindh caretaker chief minister Justice (ret'd) Maybhoot Baqar while speaking at the Institute of Business Administration (IBA) Convocation 2023 at the IBA Karachi on Sunday.

Baqar said the convocation symbolises the culmination of years of relentless dedication and unwavering commitment, adding that it signifies the transformative power of education, the beacon that has illuminated the path of students' future.

He said that for over seven decades the IBA has been at the forefront of higher education. It all began in 1955, when the Institute was established, and he proudly collaborated with the renowned Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania, he added.

"Fast forward to today, the IBA stands as a premier multidisciplinary institution offering a spectrum of educational programmes, and the three distinguished schools — the School of Business Studies, the School of Economics & Social Sciences and the School of Mathematics & Computer Science — provide a comprehensive educational experience."

"We are gathered here today not merely as witnesses to an academic milestone but as torch-bearers of the spirit of patriotism," said Baqar, adding that Pakistan has always kindled a fervour for national pride in its students. "It's not just a certificate, it's an emotion, a legacy and a responsibility."

He said the IBA has nurtured the minds destined to shape our nation's future. Quoting Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah, he added: "With faith, discipline and selfless devotion to duty, there is nothing we cannot achieve."

He also said that as we celebrate the academic achievements of our graduating batch, it is paramount that we remind ourselves that our patriotism, our love for this nation and our commitment to its welfare are intrinsically tied to our discipline and devotion.

Addressing the students, he said that as graduates of the IBA, "you are the future leaders of our nation. Your actions, decisions and choices will influence the course of our nation. Your patriotism, the same spirit of acceptance fact, it is about striving for excellence and being willing to learn from both successes and failures. "Each of you has the potential to be a leader in your unique way."

He also said the nation awaits the contributions the newly graduating students would make, the changes they will inspire and the legacy they will leave. He said responsible citizens who not only achieve personal success but also elevate the entire nation, he added.

The caretaker provincial chief executive congratulated the class of 2023 and wished them to embark on a remarkable journey towards a brighter and prosperous Pakistan.

The IBA Karachi held its convocation for the class of 2023 at the main campus, where more than a thousand students graduated from the university.

Almost 40 per cent of the IBA graduates are young women, and this year almost half the PhD graduates are females, "which is a proud moment for the institute, as the IBA takes immense pride in empowering our women in every field", said Dr Zaidi.

He said they are more than a business school, as they have expanded their disciplines. He shared that their first cohort of MS Finance had also graduated.

He also highlighted the IBA's commitment to diversity and inclusivity by enrolling students from all socio-economic backgrounds, with currently 30 per cent of the IBA students receiving some form of financial assistance. Often, he said, students forget that the IBA is a public sector university, and it is compared with

It marked a momentous occasion as 1,184 graduates were conferred degrees in several disciplines. The graduating batch included 776 graduates from six undergraduate programs, 403 graduates from ten postgraduate programs, and five graduates from three PhD programs.

The Chief Guest of the ceremony was Caretaker Chief Minister of Sindh and Patron IBA, Justice (Retd.) Maqbool Baqar. Dr. Azra Raza, Chan Soon-Shiong Professor of Medicine and Clinical Director, Edward P. Evans Foundation MDS Center, Columbia University in New York attended as Guest of Honor.

The Executive Director, IBA Karachi, Dr. S Akbar Zaidi congratulated the graduating students and said, "I applaud each one of you for reaching this significant milestone in your educational journey as your hard work has come to fruition. Graduation is a time of celebration and reflection and signifies the beginning of a new chapter in your lives. I encourage you all to excel in your selected walks of life and continue the legacy of excellence that is the hallmark of IBA."

"I am delighted to share that almost 40% of our graduates are young women and this year almost half the PhD graduates are females, which is a proud moment for the Institute as IBA takes immense pride in empowering our women in every field", said Dr. Zaidi.

Dr. Zaidi emphasized IBA's transition and said, "We are more than a business school as we have expanded our disciplines and today, I extend my heartiest congratulations to the first cohort of MS Finance for excelling in their academic pursuits and expect the same commitment from them in their professional paths." He also highlighted IBA's commitment to diversity and inclusivity by enrolling students from all socioeconomic backgrounds with currently 30% of the IBA students receiving some form of financial assistance.

Dr. Raza congratulated the graduates and said, "You are now entering a world where things are uncertain and unpredictable. But having said that the future is open to possibilities and as young, competent, empowered individuals, it is your duty to fight all the challenges for a fabulous future."

Speaking about the immense capabilities of a human brain, she quoted renowned American poet Emily Dickinson and likened the human brain to a sponge ready to soak up knowledge.
